

Rivetting Device

Application

A device in an assembling process to staking-fasten a main unit and a cover by nylon rivet.

Description

Previously nylon rivet was inserted manually by using a hand press in the assembling process, causing occasional inconstant insertions, either too strong or too weak. By adopting an ELECYLINDER, the inserting speed and pressure can be kept constant, improving the quality.